DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-23 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 3-10, 13, 17, 20 and 21 are of copending Application No. 10/325410. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the exterior building wall recited in the instant application does not distinguish from the wall or exterior structured surface recited in 10/325140 since walls typically contain exterior surfaces.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1772

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-7, 14, and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by either Reicherts et al (6410118) or Waggoner et al (6355333).

Reicherts et al teaches a fluid control film containing a microstructured surface with channels applied to the exterior wall assembly of a building. The film is applied with an adhesive and/or staples. Refer to figures 1-8 and column 2, lines 6-17, column 3, lines 22-43 and column 4, lines 1-14. Waggoner et al also teaches a fluid control film 40 containing a microstructured surface with channels applied to the exterior wall assembly of a building. The film is applied with an adhesive and/or staples. Refer to figures 2-15 along with the Abstract and column 1, lines 23-50, column 2, lines 59-61, column 4, lines 8-39, column 6, lines 9-65, column 8, lines 10-25 and column 19, lines 30-36.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 8-13 and 15-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over either Reicherts et al (6410118) or Waggoner et al (6355333).

The primary reference teaches the invention substantially as recited except for the adhesive being continuous or discontinuous as in claims 8 and 9 and the specific substrates the film is applied to. See the 35 U.S.C. 102 rejection above.

Art Unit: 1772

However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to the primary references to apply the film to all, and any, desired sections of the building in order to apply the protection features of the film thereto, motivated by the fact that Waggoner et al teaches to prevent water from entering windows, doors, and other joints in a building (column 1, lines 9-41). The adhesive coverage (i.e. continuous or discontinuous) would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art motivated by the fact one would what adhesive on the film in the locations that it is to be attached to the building. The anti-microbial additive of claim 20 would also be obvious motivated by the fact that exterior conditions of a building are subject to environmental conditions that require said protection. Pressure treated lumber is an example of needed exterior protection therefrom.
